

Dear -,

The new European General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”) goes into effect on May 25, 2018. We can assure you that all Future Hosting services are now in full compliance with the GDPR.

We want to keep you up to date and informed so that you and your team can focus on what matters, your business. As such, we have updated our Privacy Policy and Terms of Service to comply with the new requirements of the GDPR. Please view the newly updated terms and conditions of each policy here: <https://www.futurehosting.com/legal/>.

Thank you for being a Future Hosting customer. We’re proud to provide the highest level of privacy for our customers and hope you’ll find that these updates improve your overall experience with Future Hosting. Please send any questions you may have to legal@futurehosting.com and thank you for choosing Future Hosting.

Regards,

The Future Hosting Team
